

LETTER BOX and PERSONAL ITEMS

Use Spelling List as Test
Supt. E. F. Covell, Tell: We order a spelling list for each pupil, and use them as a regular spelling text in all our classes.

Finds Lists Excellent
Supt. R. O. Cone, Buckholts: I enclosed find 80 cents, for which please send me sixteen spelling lists. We find these to be excellent for class-work in spelling.

Leaguer Hits the Spot
Supt. Henry Ross, Thorndale: I appreciate very much the stand the publishers of the LEAGUER take on various phases of League work and especially agree with writers of articles on use of tobacco.

Calls League Growth "Marvelous"
Supt. N. R. Crozier, Dallas: The growth of the Interscholastic League has been marvelous. Its magnitude is in keeping with this empire of a State. Any state would be proud of such an organization.

Finds List Useful
Supt. S. R. Lemay, Athens: Please send us 100 copies of your bulletin Developing Number Sense. I find this bulletin a very useful book and wish to state that we are using it to a great advantage in our schools.

Lists Used in High School
Principal D. L. Stoker, Jr., La Feria: I am sending a check for $3.60, for which please send me 120 copies of the spelling bulletins. I find the words are excellent for high-school students and we are giving all of our students spelling, from these bulletins.

Tahoka District 100 Per Cent
Principal Nat Williams, Tahoka: The Tahoka district is 100 per cent in the League. We are anticipating a good year for the Interscholastic League of this county. Last year we added music to the contests in the high schools and derived much benefit from it. We hope to repeat this year.

Triangle Practice Meet
Supt. W. D. Wilkerson, Reagan: The schools of Bremond, Reagan, and Kosse hold annually what we call the Triangle Meet. The Interscholastic League rules are strictly enforced and the meet is run off just as a county meet and includes all the League contests. We find that this meet is enjoyed by both the children and the communities represented and that it stimulates interest in League work.

Praises Leaguer
Maurice M. Hale, Malakoff: Supt. M. P. Willis here has asked us as high-school teachers to write you regarding the INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUER. We are planning to enter wholeheartedly into various events this coming spring at our Henderson County meet. I am teacher of English, as well as instructor of public speaking, in the local school. As such, I shall be assignedly responsible for several entries. Will you please mail me the Interscholastic paper of which you are editor? I have just enjoyed my first reading of a copy of your paper. It is very definite and greatly helpful.

Two Free "Kicks"
Supt. M. V. Peterson, Yorktown: I think that Rule VIII, Section 8, should be changed or modified so as to remove all question of "receiving money, etc." by making a high-school player ineligible if an admission is charged to the game in which he plays.

One more "kick." By changing one-half of the records each year in Music Memory makes that event so expensive that small schools cannot afford it. Also, a number of the records listed this year cannot be gotten, as the catalogues do not list them. Since Music Memory is now well established, and most schools have made a collection of records, I think it would be well to repeat some of the first selections. This school now has a collection of about one hundred or more records. It is too expensive as compared with results. No "charge" for "kicks" or suggestions.

Here's a School System That Is 100 Per Cent in the League

ART CONTEST IS AGAIN SCHEDULED

Professor Samuel Gideon Announces Plan for Charcoal and Color Competition.

ART CONTEST at the State Meet will be held by the League in cooperation with the Texas Fine Arts Association, and under the immediate direction of Professor Samuel E. Gideon, of the University of Texas. The contest this year will include a free-for-all art competition to which any high-school student eligible under Article VIII of the League Constitution and Rules and who is a student in a member-school of the League will be admitted. It will be held in the Ney Museum, Austin, Texas, beginning at 9 A.M., May 4.

There will be two contests this year: (a) one being a group of "still life" objects to be done in charcoal and during a period not greater than six consecutive hours, and (b) a group of "still life" objects to be done in color (any medium) and during a period not greater than six consecutive hours.

A competitor will not be permitted to enter both competitions. Each school may send one entrant for the charcoal competition and one entrant for the color competition.

Lunch will be furnished to all contestants, as likewise all drawing material and equipment for the charcoal competition, but for the competition in color, contestants must bring their own material other than drawing boards and easels.

The prizes will be silver and bronze medals for each group. A lecture on an appropriate art topic will be given the students and they will be otherwise entertained by the Texas Fine Arts Association and the art lovers of Austin.

Teachers who are interested are asked to communicate with Professor Samuel E. Gideon, Director of the Art Contest, University of Texas, Austin, for further information.

League Arouses Enthusiasm

J. B. Golden, Cache Creek School, Route 2, Seymour: This is our second year to join the League and we are very enthusiastic over the work. The spelling list is wonderful, the children are learning to spell from them, and we find they study harder in anticipation of the contests.

High School Journalists Are Invited to Conference May 4-5

Staffs of Student Papers Urged to send delegates to Meeting to Be Held Under Auspices of Sigma Delta Chi and School of Journalism.

EDITORS AND DELEGATES from the staffs of more than a hundred high-school papers and magazines of Texas are expected to attend the Texas High School Press Conference to be held at the University of Texas May 4 and 5, according to Burt Dyke, president of Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalism fraternity at the University.

Delegates from the high-school publications will assemble in Austin at the same time that delegates to the various interscholastic events gather for the annual contests of the Interscholastic League.

All editors and members of the staffs of these high-school publications are urged to attend the conference, Dyke stated. Problems confronting high-school journalists will be discussed at the meeting, plans worked out for the future of the publications, and the possibility of a Statewide organization of student editors discussed.

The visiting students will be shown some of the things a college course in journalism has in store for them. The life and work of journalists will be presented to them in such a way that it is hoped many of the visiting boys and girls will be able to better

Tiny Tot Story-Telling Contest Adds Zest to Lynn County Meet.

A WAY out in West Texas, farther west, considerably, than the "West Begins," on a wide stretch of fertile plain, is the comparatively new town of Tahoka. Enthusiasm is the key word in West Texas. These folk some way left the hookworm behind when they emigrated. Enterprise, initiative, "something doing," buoyancy—these are some of the words which are associated with that section.

Now comes a letter from Supt. M. L. H. Baze, Tahoka, which seems to imply that the same enthusiasm which characterizes other features of life on the Texas plains is being injected into Interscholastic League work.

He says: "This letter tells of the interest and work of the Interscholastic League in Lynn County and the Tahoka Schools in particular. We have found that the League work is wonderfully worthwhile when we work at the job. Every pupil in the Tahoka school system is reached with some phase of the work. 'But how,' some one asks, 'can you make the work applicable to the first grades of the primary department?'"

Well, this county has for two years sponsored the "Tiny-Tot Story Telling Contest." Every child of the subjunior age is given training in this event. All the events of the League are vitalized throughout the year. Contests in arithmetic, spelling, declamation, etc. are held often. It is the part of the teacher to see that children are given help in selecting declamations. It is the part of the teacher to see that every child is given training in arithmetic, spelling, etc. throughout the year. Every grade from the third through the eleventh has spelling every day. This school with an enrollment of less than seven hundred has already ordered over eight hundred spelling lists this year. Arithmetic bulletins in proportion have been ordered. And let me say here that the idea of 'developing number sense' is finding favor in this school. We believe that our pupils are developing number sense and mostly through just such work as is suggested in the arithmetic contest bulletins. When a child makes 450, as one of our pupils made in twenty minutes today, then we feel that the work is eminently worthwhile."

Teachers who are interested are asked to communicate with Professor Samuel E. Gideon, Director of the Art Contest, University of Texas, Austin, for further information.

4,000 People Attend Coryell County Meet

CORYELL COUNTY has built up a League meet which challenges comparison with any in the State. Lately came to the State Office a special entry blank printed for this county as big as the side of a barn. Not only is the regular League program carried out, but there are many industrial events scheduled. Entertainment features abound. Says J. M. Witcher, Gatesville, concerning the League in his county:

"The schools of Coryell County have derived great benefits from the League work. Last year we had fifty-four schools actually participating, with an attendance of more than four thousand people."

SUGGESTS CHANGE IN TRANSFER RULE

Writer Believes Application Too Stringent in Certain Counties and Events

TWO POINTS in a recent letter to the League, each of which is worthy of serious consideration, are raised by Superintendent McIlhane, of Marlin.

Point One
As you no doubt are aware, Marlin offers courses in vocational agriculture, home economics, business administration, and manual training, that cannot be duplicated anywhere else in the county. It seems unfair to a pupil to force him to go to some other school in the county that does not offer the courses he wishes to take or else to forbid him to take part in any extra-curricular activities that are fostered by the League. It seems to me that a student ought to be permitted to go to school anywhere in his own county, since there is usually only one town in most counties that constitutes the economic and educational center of the county.

Point Two
The ruling on residence works an especial hardship on boys and girls from the rural districts who have completed the ninth or tenth grades and who have come to school under the high-school tuition law. As a rule, the boys know nothing of football and could not make the team if they were eligible; but they are all debaters, declaimers, and basketball players. A ruling which would require them to be in school one semester instead of one year before being eligible, would permit them to take part in most of the activities to which they are accustomed and at the same time would protect the school from transfer for football purposes. Since there is no semester immediately preceding the fall term, it seems to me that a ruling on the semester basis would be ample protection against professionalism or illicit transfers in both football and other sports.

I realize the fact that the Interscholastic League is achieving a great work in Texas and I support it heartily. However, I really believe that a transfer on a semester basis instead of an annual basis would do no harm to League activities and would further the objectives of the League very materially.

Football Changes Submitted In Circular Arouse Much Interest

Propositions Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 8 Lead Others in Number of Endorsements Received. Tabulation Shows Nearly Half of Schools Responded.

ON JANUARY 30, schools that had participated in 1927 football were circularized with "changes suggested" for 1928. The changes were not recommended or disapproved by the State Office but were compiled from suggestions that had been received from school men over the State. The nine changes suggested follow:

ONE PRO ONE CON AGE-LIMIT RULE

Controversy Flourishes and "Much Is to Be Said on Both Sides"

AGE LIMIT is a bone many school men delight to gnaw. Two letters are selected for publication in this issue: one is short and the other not very long.

Wants Age Reduced
Says Superintendent C. C. Carver, DeKalb:

"I want to register my approval of the proposed change in age limit for contestants in the Interscholastic League. I believe, by changing the age to 18 instead of 20, we would have a much smoother running organization."

Against Proposed Change
Says Principal John R. Ratliff, El Campo:

"I am writing to protest against any changes in the eligibility rules in League contest. I think the present rules are sufficient if they are enforced by the local authorities. In the small towns and rural communities many of the students are unable to start to school as young nor continue as regularly as those in the city. Consequently, our graduation classes are made up of boys older than those in the city. To cut out our boys of that age would be giving the large schools all the advantage in material. However you rule, I shall abide cheerfully by the decision."

Suggests Hockey
"May I suggest that the League sponsor field hockey for the girls in our high schools? Our girls are woefully neglected in the athletic activities. This is being changed in other states. The schools could be organized into districts similar to those in football. The schedules could be arranged so that the school could get more good from the football field. I should like to hear from this suggestion."

1. That the closing date for registration be May 1 instead of October 1, effective 1929.
2. That more districts be created for Conference B schools.
3. That 5 per cent of the gross receipts of inter-district games be paid to the State Office to maintain a fund for investigating eligibility questions; to provide appropriate trophies for all district winners; to supplement printing, salary and office appropriations relating to football.
4. That all games be played on Saturday or holidays.
5. That no school be allowed to begin practice prior to October 1.
6. That in addition to the Four-Year Rule, no student be allowed to participate after he has been in attendance eight semesters.
7. That the Scholarship Rule be changed so as to require a student to make a pass in four subjects for the entire year before being eligible.
8. That a round-robin schedule in the district or sub-district be required.

Item for Debater's Notebook

DEBATERS will do well to clip this short article and paste it into their notebooks:

"Tariff reduction would help the farmers; war debt cancellation would help them; coöperative marketing would help; the McNary-Haugen Bill would help; but all of these can be nullified if the Federal Reserve System does not stabilize the value of gold."

That is the opinion of Prof. John R. Commons, noted economist of the University of Wisconsin, expressed in the current number of the North American Review, in which Professor Commons concludes his discussion, begun last month, of "Farm Prices and the Value of Gold."

"It is not so much the spread between manufacturers' prices and agricultural prices that burdens the farmer," Professor Commons explains; "it is also the increase in the burden of taxes and debts occasioned by the fall in prices."

"Taxes and debts must be paid in gold or its equivalent and, in order to get gold, commodities must be sold. If the level of prices falls 20 per cent—that is, from 100 to 80—then the quantity of commodities that must be sold for gold or gold credit in order to pay a given amount of interest and taxes must increase 25 per cent, that is, from 80 to 100."

"The farmers' burden of taxes and debts has been increased both by the larger amount of taxes and debts payable in money and by the larger amount of commodities required to be sold in order to pay the same amount of taxes and debts."

"The farmer suffers with others, but is in a less advantageous position to adjust his affairs to meet the new conditions. The issue is a general one and resolves itself into the question, shall creditors obtain unearned income in terms of commodities and producers suffer undeserved outgo in terms of commodities, by a mere rise in the value of gold, over which they have no control and over which only

WANTS AGE-LIMIT KEPT AT TWENTY

Writer Declares Older Boys Should Be Retained in School By Athletics.

(By C. L. Sone, Slaton)

I feel that the friends of the older boys in the public schools who have convictions on the age limit, so much discussed now, should speak out.

What are our schools organized for, anyway? I should answer, "They are organized with the purpose of attracting and holding the boys until they may be prepared for the ordinary duties of a citizen and brought to an ambition to stand among the best of their fellows."

We hear it said that if a boy has not finished his high-school work by the time he is 18 he should be penalized by being deprived of the privileges of the athlete. In the first place, that sounds like pure spite work. We know that many thoughtless boys miss up their school careers by "busting out" and quitting when they are in their early teens. After a little, maybe a year or two, they come to themselves and want to be back with their fellows and we should be ever so glad to offer every inducement for their return. In the second place, statistics show that thousands and thousands of boys return and continue as fine, brilliant students, graduating after reaching ages of from 19 to 21. Thousands of these go on to college or specialize in various schools and make the very best of business or professional men. Are these boys worth working for?

Our high schools are being crowded with strong, virile young men who have heretofore neglected their opportunities but who have now reached that age when they will listen to their parent or a good friend. They are advised to enter school. Where shall they go? The college will not take them. Shall we outlaw them and say they are unworthy to enjoy the rights of others?

Our school has seventy-five who are in line for graduation—about fifty of these boys. Quite a number have reached the age of 20, or will have done so before May 18, 1928. These young men are among the very best students and without exception are fine school citizens. True, many have been attracted to and held in school by the lure of athletics. What crime in that? If athletics are permissible for a 17-year-old boy, why not for one 20?

Some would suggest that these young men are hard to discipline. We would suggest with the utmost respect to all, "The teacher who cannot discipline a young man of 20 cannot discipline a young man of 15." A group of young men in a high school, properly handled, are of the strength of the morale and morals of the school.

We are earnestly pleading for our older boys.

The Federal Reserve System has control?

"Or, reversely, shall creditors be made to lose and debtors be presented with a gain by a fall in the value of gold over which they have no control?"

"A stable value of gold, regulated by the Federal Reserve System, is the most important of the many steps required, not only towards preventing the ups and downs of production in all lines and maintaining a better balance between manufacturers and agriculture, but also towards keeping politics from changing the personnel of the Federal Reserve Board."

Professor Commons adds that the fixing of the level at which the value of gold should be maintained requires study and debate. He favors, however, maintenance of the general price level (value of gold) at about the level of 1923 when prices in general were about 60 per cent above the prewar level.—University of Wisconsin Press Bulletin, February 1, 1928.

What Are Your Former League Winners Doing in the World?

One School Superintendent Gives Notes of Subsequent Accomplishments of Boys Who Have Represented His School at League Meets.

PROOF of the pudding is in the eating, says the old oft-quoted adage. What is the proof of Interscholastic League work? We offer the suggestion that the fruit by which it is to be tested is the subsequent accomplishments of the ones who participate.

Joe R. Humphrey, superintendent of the Pecos Schools, submits the following notes concerning the boys who have represented his school at the State Meet during the past few years:

Hoyt Jones: Graduated from the Pecos High School in 1918; attended the Virginia Military Institute four years, receiving his degree from that institution in 1922. He is now in the offices of the California Supply Company, Long Beach, Calif., with home address at Fullerton, Calif.

Jim Prewitt: Graduated from Pecos High School in 1919; attended the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas four years, graduating from that institution in 1923. While in A. and M. he was cadet captain of Company H, in 1922 and 1923. He has since graduation attended a summer camp, and now has a second lieutenancy in the Officers Reserve Corps. He is connected with the Gannett Seelye & Fleming Construction Company with head office at Canandaigua, N.Y.

George Ross: Graduated from the Pecos High School in 1922. He attended Agricultural and Mechanical College for four years and graduated in 1926. While in A. and M. he played battalion football and track during his freshman year. He was cadet captain of Company G, in 1925 and 1926. He is a first lieutenant in the Ross Volunteers, and has his second lieutenant's commission in the Officers Reserve Corps. Since graduation he spent one year on the ranch and now is an official in the Security State Bank of Pecos, Texas.

John Wilson: Graduated from Pecos High School in 1922; attended Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, and since that time has been employed as a salesman for the Rio Grande Lumber Company, of El Paso, Texas.

William Kerr: Graduated from Pecos High School in 1924; attended Texas Christian University and the University of Texas. Graduated from Cumberland University in 1927. He lettered in track at T. C. U. and was on the freshman football and basketball teams at the University of Texas. He was appointed county attorney of Reeves County in July, 1927; served capably as such since that date, and has announced for re-election, so far without opposition.

W. D. Cowan: Graduated from Pecos High School in 1924; entered Baylor University the following fall. He made freshman football and track. On re-entering Baylor in 1925 he was groomed as one of Baylor's "star" backfield men, but withdrew from school before the season was far advanced. Later in the year he entered Sul Ross State Teachers College, where he has been one of the outstanding players in football, basketball, and track. He is now in Sul Ross.

Hillard Camp: Graduated from Pecos High School in 1920. Entered Texas Christian University and received his B.A. degree in 1924. He then entered the Medical School of the University of Texas and received his M.D. in 1927. He was a letter man and one of the most outstanding backfield men for T. C. U. in 1921, 1922, and 1923. He is now instructor of anatomy in the State Medical School at Galveston.

A specialist is a man who knows more and more about less and less. Dr. William J. Mayo.

DEBATERS MAKE GOOD OUT of nine winning debate teams with whom I have been associated for the past five years, all but one member of them have graduated with honors from the high school. With the exception of one boy the other seventeen debaters are in college now and each is making a good record. R. M. Cantrell, Coach in Debate, Rising Star High School.
