

Fretwell to Speak At UIL Breakfast

Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell of New York City, nationally recognized leader in extracurricular activities and high-school education, will deliver the main address at the Interscholastic League breakfast in Dallas during the convention of the Texas State Teachers' Association. His subject will be "School Contests as Training for Citizenship."

The annual breakfast for administrators and contest directors and coaches is scheduled for Friday, November 26, at 7:30 a.m. in the ballroom of the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas.

Noted Writer

Dr. Fretwell is the author of "A Study in Educational Progress" and "Extracurricular Activities in Secondary Schools," and is a frequent contributor to educational magazines and yearbooks.

He is a member of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, National Educational Association, College Teachers of Education, American Camping Association, and National Society for the Study of Education.

During the First World War, Dr. Fretwell organized for the Surgeon General's office the program of physical education and recreation for all the reconstruction hospitals in the United States, and later became National Director of Recreation of the American Red Cross. He was chairman of the Camping Section of the White House Conferences on Child Health and Protection in 1930. He has also served as advisor of the High School Section of the National Safety Council.

Active as a Scout Leader for more than thirty years, Dr. Fretwell now holds the position of Chief Scout of Boy Scouts of America. Before September 1, 1948, he was Chief Scout Executive.

Identified with the Boy Scouts of America since its earliest days, he served on its National Executive Board from 1933 until 1943. Before becoming Chief Scout Executive in 1943, he was professor of education at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Open Forum

After the address by Dr. Fretwell, there will be an open forum discussion of academic, music, and athletic contests sponsored by the University Interscholastic League.

Reservations may be obtained in advance by sending $1.25 to Miss Willie Thompson, secretary, University Interscholastic League, Box H, University Station, Austin, Texas.

Committee to Study Television Rights

Plans Underway for 1949 Sports Season

A special committee of school administrators has been appointed to discuss the question of granting television rights for high-school athletic contests.

Members of the television committee, according to R. J. Kidd, director, are J. O. Webb of Houston, M. P. Baker of Corpus Christi, Nat Williams of Abilene, W. T. White of Dallas, and Mortimer Brown of Tyler.

The first meeting of the group was scheduled for October 16 in the office of Dean T. H. Shelby. Invitations were extended to representatives from radio stations KRLD, Dallas, WFAA, Dallas, WBAP, Fort Worth, and the Texas State Net Work, Fort Worth.

"The question of telecasting football games has come up sooner than we anticipated," commented the League director. "At the present time the Constitution and Rules of the Interscholastic League does not authorize the State Executive Committee to grant television rights. The State Office is now asking for bids on the broadcasting rights for the 1949 sports season, and the question of telecasting rights for the same period has come into the picture."

Eligibility Rule Amendment Offered

Fall-Training Rule On Council Agenda

The annual two-day session of the Legislative Advisory Council will be held in Austin, October 31 and November 1, in the Maximilian Room of the Driskill Hotel, beginning Sunday at 2 p.m. The Monday meeting will start at 8:30 a.m. and close with a luncheon.

The agenda includes these recommendations which will be considered by representatives from Conferences AA, A and B and the City Conference, in addition to others that may be submitted at the time the council meets:

- 1. A recommendation that Article VIII, Section 14, be amended in such a way as to limit ineligibility to the sport in which a boy participated.
2. A proposal that preliminary fall training be confined to the local school campus.
3. A proposal that member-schools be allowed to continue football practice from the close of the season on December 1 to the date of the final championship game and that the date of fall training be set for September 1; that no preliminary football conditioning program be permitted prior to September 1, under the direction of the football coach or any school official.

Special reports will be made by these committees:

- 1. A report of the committee appointed to study revision of the amateur rule. Members of this committee are: Principal R. B. Norman, Amarillo, chairman; Superintendent H. John Morris, Claude; Superintendent D. T. Loyd, East Mountain, Gilmer; Superintendent W. T. Hanes, Cameron.
2. A report from the committee of Texas Music Educators' Association.
3. A report from the committee of Texas Speech Association.
4. A report on the recommendation of the State Meeting of Delegates from Conferences AA, A and B, and the City Conference.

The Advisory Council meets to consider and study all proposed legislation and recommendations submitted by member-schools and to recommend to the State Executive Committee legislation that it considers vital to the best interests of the League.

City of Dallas Passes No Drinking Ordinance

Drinking at football games and all other high-school events has been declared a misdemeanor in the City of Dallas, and is punishable by a fine not to exceed two hundred dollars.

P. C. Cobb, athletic director of Dallas schools, sent a copy of the ordinance to the State Office with this comment: "We have employed two plain-clothesmen for the past few years to watch for drinking in the stadium and they have done a very good job, but with an ordinance such as this that has teeth in it, I do not look for any further trouble."

The ordinance reads as follows: Be It Ordained by the City Council of Dallas: Section 1. That Chapter 90 of the 1941 Code of Civil and Criminal Ordinances of the City of Dallas is hereby amended by the addition thereto of Article 90-25: "Article 90-25. It shall be unlawful for any person to possess, transport, or consume any alcoholic beverage, as defined by the Texas Liquor Control Act, at any school-sponsored dance, party or other social gathering, and on the grounds or in the buildings of public schools. It provides for the confiscation of liquor by police officers, and declares such possession, transportation or consumption to be a misdemeanor and provides for a penalty.

The ordinance makes it unlawful to possess, transport, or consume any alcoholic beverage at high-school athletic contests, at school-sponsored dances, parties and other social gatherings, and on the grounds and in the buildings of public schools. It provides for the confiscation of liquor by police officers, and declares such possession, transportation or consumption to be a misdemeanor and provides for a penalty.

In the United States as a whole, only 453 of each 1,000 who were enrolled as fifth-grade pupils are still in attendance in the final year of high school, the report said. The Dallas Morning News.

Roy Bedichek is now on limited retirement with the University Interscholastic League which he has served since 1917. In the back of the above photograph is his book 'Adventures With a Naturalist.' Under his guidance, the UIL has become the largest organization of its kind.

Roy Bedichek, Director of League, Retires After 31 Years of Service

Roy Bedichek has added a new title, that of director emeritus, to the list he has held with the University Interscholastic League during the past thirty-one years. Since 1917 when he became a regular staff member of the League, he has exercised tremendous influence in its growth and in the direction of its growth ever since.

The announcement of his retirement from the League was made in June. Rodney J. Kidd, who has been director of athletics since 1938, was named to succeed him as director and editor of THE INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUER.

Before he was officially connected with the League, Mr. Bedichek had done some special work with the organization in 1914. After becoming a staff member, he was first, athletic director and editor of the LEAGUER, then director of the Bureau of Public School Service in the Division of Extension in which the administration of League activities is centered; then he was appointed director of the League as well as of the Bureau. He has served as executive secretary of the State Executive Committee for the entire thirty-one years.

League Expands

Since 1917, the League has experimented with dozens of contests, dropping some, expanding others, and keeping the remainder on an even keel. Debate, declamation, ready writing (until 1935 known as essay writing) were the earliest speech and literary contests. Of course, spelling and plain writing has long been a favorite contest. Track and field and tennis made up the athletic program in the beginning.

In 1920 football and basketball were added to the sports sponsored by the League. Football had been attempted in 1914 but was not highly successful until 1920.

Not only has the schedule of contests been expanded, but territorial divisions have been created and new divisions and classifications have been made, which means the League is brought within the range of every public school in Texas, large and small. Controlled competitions have thus been brought nearer home to the school and, thereby, closer to the individual child.

"No one man makes an organization as big as the Interscholastic League," says Roy Bedichek. "He may be titular head and he may be influential in its councils, but it takes many individuals to carry on and develop such a work. It is, on the whole, strictly a co-operative enterprise."

What about the man Bedichek apart from his role in the League? He is a man of wide and varied interests: economics, philosophy, and natural history. His favorite American poet is Walt Whitman, because he is the supreme poet of democracy, of health, of the joys of decent living.

"Thoreau," he says, "is my favorite naturalist because of the candor of his style, his penetrating and original thinking. He was not enough of a scientist to become cluttered up with unintelligible and insignificant details, and he was certainly not sentimental enough to cloud or in any way impair his observational powers."

"Henry George," he declares, "is the greatest social philosopher America has produced, which our free enterpriser would do well to study in order to find out that free enterprise without free land is an impossibility."

Mr. Bedichek has always been a great walker. In his youth, one trip took him over a considerable portion of eastern United States, "with the aid," he explains, "of the inattention or connivance of brakemen and other functionaries of the freight trains of that area."

He served as special assistant in New York to a cancer-cure fake, who pretended to have discovered certain rays of light which removed wens and skin ailments of all kinds.

"The man had ten thousand dollars worth of pure sham electrical equipment just to impress his patients. I can't claim credit for any cures, although I turned switches on and off," he comments.

Grade Schools Register Early For Big Year in UIL Activity

Judging from the number of grade schools which are sending in membership cards to the State Office, totaling 552 at this date, there is a renewed interest in grade-school participation in League contests.

Any group of grade schools conveniently located may organize a meet. Principals of the schools, or persons designated by them, constitute the Executive Committee for the meet.

While many principals are familiar with the League program and its effectiveness as a stimulus for interest in school-work and extra-curricular activities, there are a number of principals who are just beginning their first year's work in this key position. To these newcomers, the State Office wishes to point out the type of competition open for grade-school boys and girls.

Schools to Observe United Nations Day

V.I.B. Lists Films For Celebration United Nations' Day will be celebrated October 24, the anniversary of the date when the Charter of the United Nations became effective, that is, when the required number of ratifications of the Charter was reached.

A committee of distinguished national leaders, feeling the necessity of mass participation in the purposes and value of the United Nations, is making plans to have this day observed in schools, colleges, churches, community organizations, and, in general, everywhere people can be reached.

A number of films have been prepared on the United Nations which will be of assistance to schools planning special United Nations' programs. Twelve films are now available, according to D. W. McCavick, director of the Visual Instruction Bureau, The University of Texas.

A ten-minute motion picture, "Grass Roots," No. So. 3356, shows American citizens making their voices heard to help bring about enforceable world law. This is a constructive, educational, documentary sound film.

The drawing up of the United Nations' Charter in 1945 at the San Francisco Conference is presented in No. So. 3298, "Pattern for Peace—Charter of the U.N." "Now the Peace," a two reel film, No. So. 1465, gives a summary of the basic United Nations program for world security, and plans to solve relief, food, and money problems.

A dramatic, animated summary of the world atomic situation and need for world control of atomic energy which is in the film library of the Visual Instruction Bureau is "One World or None," No. So. 3297. "Suffer Little Children," No. So. 266, pictures the way European children in war-torn countries are living and their need for help from more fortunate nations.

Other films which Mr. McCavick recommends for United Nations' celebrations in schools are these: "The World We Want to Live In," No. So. 1331, a plea for religious tolerance; "Meeting Emotional Needs in Childhood: The Groundwork of Democracy," No. So. 3230, which is concerned with the kind of attitude toward people and the sense of community responsibility the young child is developing; "Boundary Lines," No. So. 3216, a plea to eliminate the arbitrary boundaries which separate people from one another as individuals and nations; "First Steps," No. So. 3355, an official United Nations production; "Hungry Minds," No. So. 3351, educational reconstruction needs; "Now the Peace," No. So. 1465, a factual summary of the basic United Nations' program for world security; "People's Charter," No. So. 3223, an outline of the purposes of the United Nations; and "Round Trip, The U.S.A. in World Trade," No. So. 3252, America's role in foreign trade based on a research survey.

Pat McClarny to Star in New Broadway Show

Texas' own Pat McClarny, who had her first taste of the theatre while acting in League one-act plays, will play the lead in the new Broadway musical, "The Song of Texas." The production will be premiered in Texas in the same manner that "Oklahoma" was premiered in its home state.

After winning a place on the All Star Cast in 1942 when she appeared a feature role with Amarillo's One-Act Play entry in the State Tournament, Miss McClarny studied drama at The University of Texas. During the war she appeared in USO camp shows. In New York she appeared in "Girl from Nantucket," "Front Page," and "Bloomer Girl," and is now doing television shows in New York and concert work with Perry Como.

While in Austin in September, she collaborated with the Hollywood producer, Jack Gardner, in the production of "The Song of Texas" and was featured in a fashion revue. Script writer for the fashion show was another League winner, Mrs. Frank McBees of Austin, formerly Sue Brandt, who took top honors in the Journalism contest in 1940.

"Check your files to see that you have this acknowledgment," Mr. Williams advises administrators. Each year some schools fail to get their acceptance cards to the League office before the time expires, and are therefore omitted from the official list.

November 15 Is Deadline For Basketball Entries

All basketball acceptance cards must be in the State Office by November 15, Rhea Williams, director of athletics, reminds schools, and no schools will be added to the official list after this date.

In the past some school administrators have assumed that payment of the membership fee automatically placed a school in a basketball or football district. This is not true. The school must indicate whether or not it wishes to take part in football or basketball so that it may be assigned to its proper district.

The State Office acknowledges the acceptance cards as they are received.

Vol. XXXII OCTOBER, 1948 No. 2

The eight semester rule is assisting greatly in insuring that bona fide high-school students get an opportunity to participate in scholastic athletics. In press dispatches from all over the state we learn that the vast majority of high-school teams have only three or four lettermen back and that the present varsity teams are composed largely of seniors.

There are some people in our state who are now conniving ways and means to beat the eight semester rule and once again allow non bona fide students to participate in high-school athletics. Such plans as enrolling the student for two high-school courses and two grade-school courses, holding the student over another year in grade school and other similar schemes will undoubtedly be utilized.

Some people are advocating a change in the age rule from eighteen to nineteen years of age, but to do this would only assist those few people who would postpone a boy's entrance into high school in order to avoid the eight semester rule. Let's stress progress in education, not retardation; let's stress intellectual progress as well as physical development and, above all, let's give bona fide students an opportunity to play high-school athletics and not let just a few students monopolize our entire program.—R.W.

Attention is called to Article IV, Section 4, of the Constitution and Rules, which provides for the organizational meeting of the spring meet district during the month of November.

The district membership for Conferences AA, B and City will be approximately the same as last spring. Conference A district membership will correspond very closely to the present football and basketball district assignments.

The State Office intends to publish in the December and January issues of the LEAGUER the names and addresses of the contest directors for each district meet. In order to do this, each director general must furnish the State Office a list of the district contest directors.

To prepare the pupils for the literary and dramatic contests that are to get under way in March, the coaches need an early start. A special effort will be made this year to get all spring meet districts organized before December.

In the September LEAGUER we made a plea for schools to start a drive for a better brand of fan-sportsmanship this year. Some schools started last winter to lick one of the biggest trouble-makers at football and basketball games—drinking.

The City of Dallas has set a fine pattern with its ordinance prohibiting the drinking of alcoholic beverages at ALL school events, which covers games, dances and any other activity of the schools. The City Council passed an ordinance December 9, 1947, which makes possessing, transporting or consuming any alcoholic beverage a misdemeanor for which the guilty person can be fined as much as two hundred dollars.

The entire ordinance appears in this issue of the LEAGUER. We feel that other cities and towns will legislate similar ordinances to control drinking at high-school affairs.

Richard Vann
Belton High School

With football season in full swing, several high-school editors have turned attention to the cultivation of a spirit of sportsmanship in regard to games.

1. One school invited a rival to select a "visiting sweetheart" for the day of a home game. The school paper printed the picture of the "visiting sweetheart" and an interview with her on the honor thus bestowed.

2. On the suggestion of the editor of the school paper, the yell leaders of one school taught the student body a yell peculiar to the opposing school.

3. Encouraging good manners at a game can be an important step in the cultivation of sportsmanship.

4. Because bad feeling between student bodies at games oftentimes results from objection to official rulings, it would be desirable to acquaint the students of your school in advance with the qualifications of the officials of a game.

Personal changes in the ranks of Texas high-school journalism provide a few news notes.

Miss Laura Sheridan for many years rode herd on The Pony Express of Newman High, Sweetwater. This year she has moved to the school system of San Angelo.

Bluford Hester, for two years assistant director of the ILL.P.C. (a part-time job), has accepted a full-time position with the Austin American-Statesman.

Concluding the foregoing statements, it seems very evident that in order to initiate a State Music Contest, the local superintendents and principals will first have to be consulted.

After such procedure has been followed, this office will endeavor to construct and administer a state contest which will be consistent with League principles and will motivate the ultimate in musical attainment.

Insufficient Peace.

Closer to the truth than he had meant to be was the schoolboy who wrote on an examination paper: "The Armistice was signed on the 11th of November in 1918 and since then every year there have been two minutes peace."

Not only did Richard Vann of Belton High School win the state championship in the Journalism Contest at the 1948 State Meet, but he and his debate partner, Bob Messer, argued their way to the championship title of Conference A Debate.

Richard won the highest honor in the Journalism competition at the 1947 State Meet also. While at Belton High School, he was a member of the National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, and was interested in debate. For the past year he has been a staff writer on the Temple Daily Telegram, and this spring won the four-year Pepsi-Cola Scholarship in Texas.

Mark Twain, in his reporting days, was instructed by an editor never to state anything as a fact that he could not verify from personal knowledge. Sent out to cover an important social event soon afterward, he turned in the following story: "A woman giving the name of Mrs. James Jones, who is reported to be one of the society leaders of the city, is said to have given what purported to be a party yesterday to a number of alleged ladies.
