55th Annual UIL State Meet To Be In Austin, May 6, 7, 8

OFFICE OF THE CHANCELLOR
THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS
AUSTIN, TEXAS 78712

To Interscholastic League Visitors:

The University of Texas welcomes each guest of the League to the 1965 Meet. We congratulate you on your earlier accomplishment and wish you success in this year's competition.

Competition, either in groups or individually, is an important part of education. It is less important, however, than independent development. Every college and university in Texas opens wide to you both opportunities.

To our present congratulations, therefore, we add a special good wish for all that you undertake in the future, on whatever campus you choose to continue your education.

Sincerely yours,

Harry Ransom
Chancellor

DIRECTOR OF THE NEWSPAPER FUND, INC.

Newspaper Fund Director Will Speak at ILPC Event

Paul Swenson, director of the Newspaper Fund, Inc., will speak on "Roads to Greatness" at the Interscholastic League Press Conference Banquet Friday night, May 7, at the Villa Capri Polynesian Room.

Formerly a Minnesota newspaper executive, Mr. Swenson is known nationally for his interest in upgrading the journalism profession through the establishment and expansion of effective high school and college journalism education programs.

As director of The Newspaper Fund, he administers a nationwide program designed to encourage and develop better talent for journalism. The Wall Street Journalism organizationized The Fund in 1958 and has provided annual grants of approximately $250,000 to support the program.

Mr. Swenson was born in 1907 in Woburn, Mass. He was graduated Cum Laude from Gustavus Adolphus College in 1928 and has done graduate work at the University of Minnesota and the University of Stockholm. In 1960 Gustavus Adolphus awarded him a doctor of humane letters degree.

His journalism career began at 15 when he was a correspondent for a Minnesota weekly. Since that time he has been active in both professional and scholastic journalism. Before joining The Fund in September of 1961, he was managing editor of The Minneapolis Star for six years. He was managing editor of The Minneapolis Tribune from 1950 through 1955.

While at The Star, Mr. Swenson developed daily use of color news photography and a sharply increased business news coverage. As managing editor of The Tribune, he expanded national and international news coverage and accelerated a news-gathering program in education, science, health and civil rights.

He had an important part in the development and use of a personnel testing program for hiring and training of young reporters and editors.

He is past president of the Minnesota Associated Press and the Minnesota professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, a former director of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association and a former member of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"Paul Swenson has done more to stimulate effective teaching of journalism than any other person," ILPC Director Max Haddick said. "I am delighted to have him as our speaker. I know that we will all benefit from his remarks."

Baseball Film Now Available

The film, Official Baseball, produced under the sanction of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations and allied groups, is now available from the Visual Instruction Bureau of The University of Texas Extension Division.

The film is made available on a three-day rental basis at a service charge of $2.50. Informative and entertaining play situations are used to depict official rules interpretations covering batting, pitching, base running, fielding, and umpiring.

All inquiries for the film should be addressed to: Visual Instruction Bureau Division of Extension, The University of Texas, Austin, 78712.

Films will be shipped four days prior to your requested use date and will be available for your use for three days. Rentals are all governed by the regular service policies of the Visual Instruction Bureau Film Library and billing for film rental will be directed to the person as indicated on the user's order.

League Competitors Vie for 81 Awards

More than $93,600 in college scholarships is being offered to League participants this year.

This amount includes more than 81 known awards. Grants vary in requirements for specific colleges and fields of study.

All awards require that the applicant has participated in Interscholastic League competition.

The Robert A. Welch Foundation offers $40,000 in grants to ten students. It is required that applicants plan to major in chemistry.

The Moody Foundation has supplied $20,000 for five $4,000 scholarships. Preference will be given to applicants planning to study for careers in life insurance.

Houston Endowment Grants
Houston Endowment, Inc., has provided $10,000 for 20 scholarships of $500 each. Applicants must be from AAA, AA, A or B conference schools only.

The Kleberg Foundation awards total $3,200. They have provided for four awards of $800 each. These grants will go to competitors in Journalism, Speech, Science, Number Sense, Slide Rule or Ready Writing.

The Texas Laundry and Dry Cleaning Association has provided $1,000 for two $500 grants. Preference will be given to those planning to major in home economics. Winners may attend any college or university in Texas.

The Brown-Lupton Foundation has provided $5,000 for five $1,000 scholarships. Three recipients shall attend Texas Christian University and two Baylor. All shall show desire to engage in research in mathematics or science.

The two Texas Interscholastic League Foundation awards are for $500 each. Applicants may attend any college or university in Texas.

Blinn College Stipends

Blinn College of Brenham will give five $100 tuition grants to applicants who participated in literary or academic events at the State Meet.

The Elizabeth Memorial Scholarship is for $500. Recipient may attend North Texas State University, Texas Womens University, Sam Houston State College or West Texas State College. Funds provided by J. O. Webb of Houston.

The University of Texas Department of Drama offers 12 awards of $500 each. Five will go to "Best Actresses" and five to "Best Actors." Two will be given for best crew or technicians in League One-Act Play Competition. The department has other awards for All-Star casts in district, area or regional contests.

The Actuaries Club of the Southwest has provided $2,400 for eight grants to outstanding mathematics teachers. Applicants must be actively engaged in coaching League Number Sense competitors and have a contestant in the current regional meet. Recipients will be selected by the regional committee soon after the meet.

The Texas Womens University Campus Government Association offers a number of $50 tuition grants for girls. These are available to first place winners in any of the five Journalism contests, to winners or runners-up in Debate, and to first place winners in Speech, One-Act Play or Ready Writing.

These Texas Interscholastic League Foundation awards are the result of fund raising efforts by the TILF board of directors and school administrators.

"We are proud to be able to offer these scholarships as incentives to competing students," R. J. Kidd, TILF secretary, said. "We hope the foundation will keep growing, so that it may be of even greater service to future competitors."

Applications for scholarships must be in the office of the foundation, Box 8028, University Station, Austin, Texas, 78712, by June 1. They must include scores of the College Entrance Board Examination, or its equivalent, and a transcript of credits, and principal and teacher recommendations.

"That total of $93,600 sounds like a great deal of money, but when you consider that more than 2,000 students will compete in the State Meet this year, it really isn't enough. We will keep working to get more scholarships for talented, deserving students," Kidd added.

Responsible Chaperones Required By Hotels, Motels

The League director was invited to a meeting of the hotel and motel managers to discuss high school conduct problems at the State Meet in Austin.

Managers reported that they had no problems with high school groups properly chaperoned by adults. Their problems are with high school students not under supervision.

They reported also that parents make advanced reservations for students. The students arrived and register, reporting that parents will come later. When many of these students check into the hotel they bring liquor or beer with them. They either buy it on the road or before leaving home towns.

To correct this situation the managers will not allow any high school student to register for a room unless there is an adult chaperon present.

The managers will report misconduct and damages to League officials. These reports will be forwarded on to the schools involved.

With the assistance of hotel and motel managers, Austin police and school administrators, the League is convinced that the party goers will find that Austin at State Meet time is not the place to put on shows such as have been held recently in the city.

Director Cites 12 Points In Promoting Drama Course

By ROY M. BROWN

Director of Drama

As scientists probe further into space, the high school drama director should also do some probing. The scientist has made his accomplishments through experimentation. So should the drama director.

In the past few years I have had the opportunity to work with hundreds of talented secondary and college drama directors in the state. We have discussed secondary educational theatre in every respect. From these discussions I have compiled 12 points or ideas that have been experimented with and have proven to be effective in elevating and selling the secondary drama program:

1. Organize a drama club. It is a known fact that a well-organized drama club can be the backbone of an effective drama program.
2. Produce all-school plays. Class plays restrict the drama program.
3. Produce plays of literary value. If you would not place a play on an approved reading list, it should not be produced.
4. Adopt the AETA, SWTC, and TETA-TSFC Play Selection Policy. (Copies available through the League Office.)
5. Sell your administration on the benefits of drama education, and maintain a good working relationship with the administration. "You may not always agree with him, but he is still the boss."
6. Keep a close working relationship with the faculty. Relate the drama program to the entire curriculum.
7. Meet with your school board. Explain the educational potential of an active drama program.
8. Work closely with community and school organizations. There is always a demand for program material, and this is a golden opportunity for the drama department to promote and publicize its program.
9. Participate in the League One-Act Play Contest. It has been said many times that participation in the one-act play contest has served as that needed stimulus to promote the local drama program.
10. Do everything possible to provide the best theatre facilities. Plays can be produced in smelly cafeteriums and gymnasiums, but versatility in play selection and production is limited. If your school is planning a building program, campaign for a new theatre.

11. Publicize the drama program through the press, radio and television. Leap upon every opportunity to let the public know what you are doing.

12. Last, and of the utmost importance. Encourage the adoption of drama as a part of the curriculum. Many school offer drama in the high school, but the course is disguised under another title. Drama should be called drama.

Further, as soon as we can improve to the Texas Education

Agency that 10,000 students are enrolled in drama courses in Texas schools, the TEA will adopt a drama textbook. Encourage your administration to adopt drama as a part of the curriculum.

Perhaps some of the points mentioned were ideas you discussed with me or they may already be in effect at your school. If so, I encourage you to implement the other ideas into your drama program. Experiment with these ideas.

As our space scientists experiment to reach the moon, there is no reason why the drama teacher can't hook his drama wagon to a Gemini space craft and experiment to improve his local drama program.

UIL Headquarters To Handle Housing

Special Phone Just for Housing

To telephone the League about housing you must call GR 1-1288. This is a direct line to Mrs. Clara Burch, Director of Housing. No other League matters can be handled over this line. It is for housing only. No FREE housing available at State Meet.

At the 55th Annual State Meet, the University Interscholastic League will again attempt to provide hotel and motel reservations for the sponsors and official contestants who qualify from the regional meets on April 23-24.

Sponsors and contestants who qualify under Sections 22 and 23 of the Spring Meet Plan, pages 36 and 37 of the current Constitution and Contest Rules will be given priority in assigning accommodations. Students and teachers who register for the annual ILPC Convention will be included. Parents, and visitors, should not expect to find accommodations through League channels.

Rebate Rules

All contestants and sponsors should come prepared to pay for their lodgings at hotels or motor courts. The "rebate" referred to in Sections 22 and 23 will be paid after the State Meet and will be based entirely on the formula outlined in Article XI, Section 2, page 26, Constitution and Contest Rules.

A special section will be set up in the League's registration headquarters at Gregory Gymnasium to assist qualified contestants to secure housing while they attend the State Meet.

Procedure

When information is received at the State Office entering students who have qualified at the regional meets, specific information concerning housing accommodations, plus official request forms for housing, will be mailed to principals of all high schools which have qualified students coming to State Meet.

These request forms should be executed and returned to state headquarters on the same day they are received.

Incoming requests will be given a priority number and will be assigned in order on a "first come, first served" basis. Telephone or telegraph requests will be processed in the same way. Please remember, however, that each telephone or telegraph request must be confirmed by the return of the housing form or by letter.

2. Discus and Shotput—The meet will furnish instruments but each contestant may use his own if it meets specifications, but it must be in the pool for any contestant to use.
3. Pole Vault—An all-weather surface runway will be used with a rubber foam landing in the pit. Only short spikes or rubber shoes may be worn.
4. Broad Jump—An all-weather surface runway will be used and only short spikes or rubber shoes may be worn.
5. 440 Yard Run—This event will be run in lanes all the way.
6. 880 and Mile—These events will be run in lanes around the first turn and then break at the pole.
7. 220 Dash—This event will be run around the track.
8. 440 Yard Sprint Relay—Outgoing runners while waiting for the baton, may take positions and begin running more than ten meters (11 yards) outside the passing zone. A distinctive short line within each lane should mark this starting point. In the Mile Relay around the track, outgoing runners, while waiting for the baton, must take positions entirely within the 20 meter zone.
9. The NCAA Track and Field Rules for 1965 will be followed in the Regional and State Track and Field Meet. There are rule changes in the 1965 Track and Field Guide. Each marked with a star. Each coach should check these rules as they will be followed in the Regional and State Meet.
10. Please note under Rule 33 NCAA that rubber spikes are not legal for outdoor meets and may not be used in League State Meets.
It is requested that all track coaches take note on how these events will be run in the State Meet and make their plans in accordance with these procedures.

BASEBALL RULES

Helmets are required for all batters, but not for base runners for the 1965 baseball season.

FOOTBALL PLAN

The official interpretation of the State Executive Committee of the League effective April 1, 1965, relative to physical education classes and Rule 30 of the football plan is as follows: (1) drills in calisthenics, conditioning exercises and other physical activities may be conducted during regular physical education classes provided they are of the same type given for all students in physical education classes; (2) no football equipment may be issued or worn; (3) all activities must be conducted during regular class periods (classes held before and after school and during the noon hour would violate this rule); (4) only regular physical education uniforms, required of all pupils in physical education classes in school, may be worn; and (5) no football plays, formations, or skills can be taught.

TRACK, FIELD ENTRIES

Official Entry Blanks for Track and Field (B-80 1-55) will be distributed by the district director to each school which has a winning track and field contestant. This is the blank which is marked to indicate each event in which the contestant will participate. Each coach or principal should fill out this blank and mail it at once to the regional director. Do not send it to the State Office. At region, blanks will again be distributed to the winning contestants. Only regional winners send this blank to the State Office.

38. Performance Regulations
c. Sight Reading—Regions will require all organizations to enter a sight reading contest.
Any organization which has rehearsed the sight reading music shall be disqualified from Sight Reading Competition.
Sight Reading will be judged on accuracy of reading, flexibility in following the director, adherence to style, interpretation, and good musical taste. Ratings received in sight reading will be published as a separate contest, and will not affect the ratings received in the concert performance.
(1) of the music in any fashion.
The organization will then perform the number without interruption of further instructions.

Prof. Hurt's Tests Don't Hurt a Bit
Mental Math Director Resigns After 13 Years of Test Work

By SARA SPEIGHTS

It takes more than number sense to create and direct the Interscholastic League Number Sense Contest. It takes time, sensitivity to changes in mathematical concepts, and a liberal sprinkling of imagination. Since the fall of 1952, James Mann Hurt, assistant professor of mathematics at the University of Texas, has been the man responsible for the contest, unique in Texas. But, unfortunately for high schoolers across the state, after the May Interscholastic League meet Hurt will resign his directorship.

Popular Contest

Number Sense is one of the oldest League contests and is probably second only to the Spelling Bee in popularity. The affable Prof. Hurt has devoted much of his busy schedule to developing the program into the success it is today. In the past 13 years, he has made up the eight or nine tests in each of the senses, M through X, the present group of tests used.

Besides just making up the tests and administering them, Hurt has "inspired teachers all over the state to get students into the program," Rodney J. Kidd, director of the League, said.

Japan Trying Number Sense

Other states have similar programs, Hurt said, but "ours is unique in that it is solely mental calculation. The only writing is in the answers." Japan, with a similar program, has recently requested information about Hurt's famous program.

The purpose of the contest is to "bring mathematics to the attention of high school students across the state in both urban and rural areas. A contest is the best way to reach them," he said.

Natural Ability Shown

Many students, the League feels, could never excel on the basketball court or the debate team, but have natural mathematical talents that need to be discovered. Kidd said that Hurt's tests are so well prepared that they have been used in many other states and by the Armed Forces.

Tests are not always an indication of aptitude, but Kidd said a profound correlation between performance on Hurt's tests and college mathematic performance has shown up during the last few years.

Problems Everywhere

How does Hurt come up with the questions for the test? "I find them just waiting for me everywhere I go," he said. "For instance, I was reading a National Geographic Magazine not too long ago and came across a ready made question in an advertisement for mail order steaks." The question he developed from the ad reads: "Eight boneless sirloin strip steaks each weighing 14 ounces sell for $29.96. Find the price per pound."

"The most important thing is that the problem must be capable of mental solution by the students toward whom the program is directed," Hurt said, "and it must concern topics with which they are familiar."

Gateway to College

He feels many students who participate in the contest come to the University because of their League competition. "Some big scholarships are given through the League to Number Sense winners," Hurt said. He cited the Henry Beckman donation and the Welsh scholarships from Houston.

While Hurt has been director, eight $300 scholarships have been established as grants to the Texas teachers who promote interest in mathematics and the Number Sense program. The Actuaries Club of the Southwest provides money for these grants.

Teacher, Counselor, Lecturer

Hurt teaches two courses at the University besides his League work and somewhere in between acts as a counselor in the Dean's office. Mathematic analysis is his main interest but he also works with modern abstract algebra and geometry. With the exception of one year spent as a guest lecturer at the University of Southern California, Hurt has been on the UT staff since 1942. He received both a BA and an MA from The University.

The mathematician also teaches for the University's Field Service Bureau, a program designed for elementary school teachers. He feels elementary teachers require advanced instruction to keep them up with modern math developments.

Research Work

Like all University professors, Hurt must also publish in his field. "Most of my research involves work directly related to my students, however," he said.

Two sons are on campus daily with their father. A 19-year-old is a musicology major and a 21-year-old has chosen chemistry as his field.

Dr. Weaver Takes Post

Dr. Milo W. Weaver, associate professor of mathematics at the University, will replace Prof. Hurt after the League events in May. Hurt plans to work with Dr. Weaver for at least the first few months.

PROF. JAMES M. HURT—After 13 years as director of League high school Number Sense Contests, Prof. Hurt will resign, effective May 31. The genial mathematician has compiled 110 contests containing 8,800 problems. These contests have spurred thousands of high school students to study math, and they have been distributed all over the world. They are serving as models for similar contests in other states and in foreign countries.

Music Theory Notes

Harmonic Analysis Essential to Study

By BERTRAND HOWARD

Harmonic analysis of music consists of systematically determining the relationship of chords to one another, and thereby getting a clearer image of the harmonic language. We can approach this goal by, first of all, specifically locating each chord within the context of its key; in other words, we find the degree of the scale upon which a given chord is built.

Let us suppose, for example, that we are analyzing a piece of music in the key of Bb major, and we find the triad Bb-D-F. The root of the chord, Bb, is also the first scale degree in the key; so we label this chord "I." F-A-C, built on the fifth scale degree (F), is V; Eb-G-Bb is IV, and so on. Notice that we always use Roman numerals in analyzing chords, I through VII.

Write the Music

It is important at this point to practice by writing on music paper all the chords in some key, such as G major. Spell the triad on each note of the scale, I-VII, and label each one with its corresponding Roman numeral.

Now let us examine some music for harmonic analysis. A hymn book will provide useful material for this purpose, as the harmony is clear and easily determined. Find a hymn in F major and begin analyzing it according to the above method. The hymn is written for four voices: bass, tenor, alto, and soprano (going from the bottom voice to the top). Only three are necessary for each triad, so the remaining voice usually takes some note already present in one of the other voices. For example, the "I" chord might appear (spelling from the bass) F-C-F-A, with the F (root) given to both the bass and alto. Close examination of each triad will make this clearer. Usually the root is doubled rather than the fifth or, more rarely, the third.

Locate the Root

When determining the spelling

Besides being involved with a heavy work load, Hurt is leaving his top position with the League because he feels his questions might start getting stale. "There are only so many variations on the same old type question," he said. One thing he hopes Dr. Weaver will do in his new capacity is to write a new Number Sense information booklet. The last one was written in 1945 and never brought up to date.

Contribution to Youth

Mr. Hurt's devotion to Interscholastic League and the Number Sense Contest has demonstrated his awareness of the needs of Texas youth. His contribution has been not only to the 15-16,000 students a year who take his tests, but also to the struggle for academic excellence throughout the State.

High School Press

Paul Swensson ILPC Speaker

Paul Swensson has confirmed that he will be here to speak at the ILPC banquet on Friday night, May 7. His topic, "Roads to Greatness," should be of great value to all of us. Mr. Swensson will be here for all three days of the convention. I know that many teachers and students will want to confer with him on problems in journalism education. That's his business, and no one could be better at it.

James Paschall (Jimmy to everyone) will be here again with his special yearbook session. Jimmy is now ramrod of the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association and doing fine.

Miss Hazel Presson from Fort Smith, Ark., will also have a part on the yearbook program, as well as other duties at the convention. She is a whiz at yearbooks and newspapers.

The University Radio/TV department will again produce its fine session. This one will be the third. The audience was so big last year that we wonder just how many to expect this year. This is an opportunity for those considering electronic media to get some basic understanding of radio and television news.

Dr. Norris G. Davis will handle a session on news. He doesn't know how to do anything but excellent work. He mixed a tremendous understanding of all phases of journalism with wit and humor to make a great session.

Reddick Forewarned

Dr. DeWitt Reddick will be on the program. We haven't given him a specific assignment yet, but he is forewarned. We can hardly have a convention without him. Last year he was absent to receive a gold medal from the University of Missouri for outstanding service to journalism. He has been warned not to earn any medals, plaques, medals or other honors during ILPC convention.

The Gardner Touch

Dr. Mary Gardner will have a tape, lecture and demonstration session on interviewing techniques. This is really good. I know that

ILPC OFFICERS SAY

Secy Extends Big Welcome To Convention

By ROBERTA WOOLWINE

ILPC Secretary

With the May convention right around the corner, the Interscholastic League Press Conference officers extend a sincere welcome to the 1965 delegates, sponsors, and contestants.

The officers feel that the convention in Austin, May 6, 7 and 8, is going to be the best yet. However, this can be made possible only through active participation of everyone attending.

Fun Session Acts

To start the convention off in high spirits, the executive board plans a fun night, Thursday, May 6 at the Methodist Student Center, 2434 Guadalupe from 7:30 until 10 p.m. Each school is urged to plan a skit or to add to the festivities and set an informal atmosphere for the assemblies and sessions on the following days.

The sole purpose of the ILPC is to benefit everyone who attends. For this to be possible it is necessary that each person make comments, ask questions, or make suggestions concerning rules, procedures, and/or activities of ILPC. This is your convention. You run it, use it, and only you can further its cause.

Election of Officers

There are several important items that need to be given careful attention and consideration. First, the election of officers. The selection of the nominees for offices of the executive board should be made with great care. Qualifications, ability, and enthusiasm of students nominated should be outstanding because the quality of the candidates will determine the progress that can be made next year.

Also, member schools are reminded of the importance of attendance at the Awards Assembly Saturday morning. An early start home can not compensate for absence during this most important session of the entire convention. Year after year awards have had to be sent to schools all over the state because representatives were not there during the Awards Assembly to receive recognition and friendly "congratulations."

Come to the convention in Austin, May 6, 7 and 8, participate, and benefit. Progress, education, and understanding of the wide possibilities in the journalistic field are our business. Our only business!

most of us could stand improvement in this field.

Prof. Olin Hinkle will do a session on Column Writing. He will be good. He wrote the book.

Mrs. Betty Knox, formerly journalism teacher at Cleburne High School and now Director of the Texas Christian University News Service, will present a session on "The Public Relations Functions of School Publications." This is vitally needed.

The Cultural Crusade

Bill McReynolds has worked for ILPC all year long, but he won't get a rest now. He is scheduled for a session on "The Cultural Crusade." He and I feel that the school newspaper can do a great deal of good in promoting the cultural aspects of school life. He has done a lot of study in this and will give us ideas on getting the job done.

There will be others. We have four more workshop sessions than ever before.

Whing Ding Show

The convention will open with the fun session on Thursday night, May 6. We need variety acts, dancers, pantomimists, comedians, singers, or any other acts. The more you do, the more fun you will have. If you have an act, send me the names of the actors and a general description of the act. I will put you on the program.

ILPC President Terry Utsinger will have a special award for the act judged best. Give it a whirl. You might win, and you can't lose. Everyone will enjoy the show.

You will get a package of ILPC convention and State Meet information soon. Be sure to read it all.

If you plan to attend the State Meet or the ILPC convention, be sure to make your reservations soon. This is a big event. You should not come to Austin without reservations. If you have any trouble getting reservations write to: League Housing Office, Box 8028, University Station, Austin 78712. They will help you get the needed rooms.

Bring A Bunch

It's going to be a great convention. It will be of value to sponsors and teachers. One sponsor said that it took off ten years every time she came to the convention. This will be her sixth trip. I have promised to provide a baby sitter for her this trip.

HAPPINESS AND PRIDE—Typical of the reaction of All-Star Cast members for 38 years was Becky Switzer's enrapt smile. The Georgetown High School student had just won the Best Actress Award and a place on the 1964 All-Star Cast in Conference AA. Miss Switzer played the part of Joan from the Georgetown production of scenes from Shaw's SAINT JOAN. This reaction will be repeated many times at the coming 39th State One-Act Play Contest, May 6, 7, and 8 at Hogg Auditorium at The University of Texas.

Conduct at State Meet

In May there will be hundreds of young high school students from all parts of Texas visiting The University of Texas and the State Capitol, many for the first time. They will be representing their home towns and schools at the 1965 State Meet. It is a great honor and privilege for a student to have this opportunity.

When high school students conduct themselves in such a way as to bring discredit on their home towns, schools and cities, they are abusing this honor and privilege. When such abuses take place the only recourse for a school is to consider the possibility of cancelling future trips to the State Meet.

Most of the qualified contestants conduct themselves in such a manner as to reflect credit on their homes, schools and cities. There is a great deal at stake in this problem of student conduct and good citizenship and if the occasion is not used to teach these lessons, interschool competitions lose their value to both the student and the school.

Unsupervised high school students attending the 1965 State Meet will be required by the hotels and motels to furnish the name of parents and home high schools. This will be done in order that the hotels may collect possible damages to hotel rooms and furniture.

Principals and sponsors are urged to emphasize good manners while visiting the State Meet. Over the years the City of Austin and hotel managers have looked forward to having the high school visitors in the city for the two day State Meet.

Keep in mind the purpose of the League's program and remember the primary aim is to "assist in preparing pupils for citizenship."

Beckman Professorship

Henry J. Beckman, donor of the first Interscholastic League Academic scholarship to State Meet Winners, has just given $100,000 to endow a professorship in engineering for The University of Texas.

Mr. Beckman created an endowment for League scholarships in Number Sense and Slide Rule. These funds have grown to the point that now several small scholarships are made available each year in addition to the original ones set up with the first gift.

Records show that students who earned Beckman awards have all graduated and many have advanced degrees.

Mr. Beckman is a person who never had the advantages of a formal education, but he recognizes the great need for it in today's world. He is vitally interested in all phases of League academic competition and in the growth and development of The University.

The League and The University are fortunate in having his loyal support in carrying on the educational program for young people of Texas.

Football Rule Interpretation

School administrators should take note of the official interpretation of Rule 30 of the Football Plan in the Official Notices column. This notice details the interpretation on exercises and training given in physical education classes. Failure to observe the limitations listed could result in disqualifications.

Music Matters

Heritage Dictates Areas To Be Taught

By NELSON G. PATRICK

Each culture, society and generation has made a contribution to the total musical heritage of any one generation. Through education, formally or informally, some of these heritages have been passed from one generation to another. In the formal educational music programs we have tried to pass on to the young of the society those musical heritages which are more sophisticated and less easily learned than in the informal situation.

Formal education need not be concerned with those heritages which can be learned or appreciated through the informal social situations. For example, those songs, dances, and pop tunes which can be learned and appreciated via the juke box, radio, TV, etc., have little time and space in the crowded school schedule. To try to include them will only repeat that which is being done through another media while there is far too much other music which requires intellectual, emotional, and historical understanding to be presented in the school situation.

The more sophisticated a music becomes, the more attention will be needed to be given to the understanding of the intellectual, emotional, and historical aspects. This cannot always be done entirely by students' performance even though the ymay have the technical facility to read such music, because through age alone they may lack the emotional maturity and historical knowledge to understand the composer's intent thereby missing much of the aesthetic value.

Rote Teaching Fallacy

Many clever directors have, through rote teaching, which required many hours of hard work on the part of both teachers and students, elicited a mechanically near-perfect performance of excessively difficult music from immature students. But one may ask: "Is this music education?" While learning to perform one or two selections in this manner, less student time and teacher wear and tear could have been utilized in studying several easier selections in breadth and depth, thereby giving the students a broader view of the scope of music.

New Music Selection Committee
During the summer of 1966, a new Music Selection Committee will meet to prepare a new list to guide our selection of contest materials. There are many factors impinging on the work of these people. The quality of music and difficulty of performance dictates the hours the music teachers will need to work in the time and space of limited rehearsal conditions. It will dictate the methods to be used. It will decide whether or not music is explored in depth or scope, or both. But of most concern, it will dictate the amount of student and teacher time which must be utilized to attain the realm of perfection for which we all strive. The Music Selection Committees will make these decisions.

Committees Worked Hard

Our past committees should receive your congratulations and compliments. They have had to work with few guide lines other than their own experiences which from time to time have served as factors of musical growth and limitation. Some committees have tended to repeat the popular and well-known selections while others have insisted on including many new materials which has forced us to learn more music thereby increasing the scope of our literature. A generous mixture of both may be advantageous. If you have any concrete suggestions on contest music materials, please convey them to your Divisional Chairmen who soon will be making nominations for the new Music Selection Committees.

Debate Champs Report On Value of Contest

George Earl Cariker, veteran debate coach and assistant principal at Carthage Junior-Senior High School, wrote to former state debate champions (all from Carthage) to see if debate experience had proved of value to them after they left high school. The answer was overwhelmingly in the affirmative. Here are typical replies to his query.

Mildred Williamson Kyle, second place winner of the 1954-55 State Meet, outstanding college debater and graduate of North Texas now employed as a speech therapist has the following to say about debate: "First, I learned to listen. Few of us have a hearing loss, but many of us do not have the 'listening habit.' I learned to make outline notes and use key words. I learned to be receptive to the ideas of others. I learned that there can be two reasonable sides to a question, and that much of it is not black and white, but shades of gray.

"Second, I learned organization. I learned to stress main ideas, to avoid unnecessary detail, to distribute my time so that I would not have to rush through important points near the end of my talk. I learned to avoid tangents, and the lure of too many analogies and not enough evidence. I learned to make a good outline, and stick to it. I learned to summarize.

"Third, I learned self-discipline. I learned that the other person has a right to his opinion, and I learned to face facts, whether they are on my side or not. I must be selective, and choose that which is most appropriate to the time and place, leaving something for another day. I learned to sacrifice the thrill of hearing my own voice for the satisfaction of self-control. This helps to develop objectivity, tolerance, and self-respect.

"Fourth, I have gained an interest in a larger world. I have been exposed to areas of economics, geography, history, government, political science, business, international relations, psychology, and sociology. I learned to read news magazines and papers. I learned the importance of the individual in society. I learned to think critically about government policies.

"I am eager to see more interest in high school debate by administrators and students alike. I truly believe it is one of the most rewarding programs in which I have participated."

Don Hopkins is a Chemical Engineer for the Esso Research Division. He is a graduate of Texas A&M and has a master's degree from the University of Michigan. Don was on the debate squad of Carthage High School. He considers debate valuable and also thinks that "the experience that debaters get in organizing and presenting material is extremely valuable. One who has difficulty with mathematics can select a profession that minimizes the deficiency, but everyone must communicate—either by writing or speaking.

"Debate teaches one to examine ideas objectively. Practically everything that we read or hear is carefully worded in order to support a particular point of view. An objective person is better able to recognize the facts."

Richard Copeland, participant of the 1957 debate squad, received a master's degree from Texas A&M University. He is presently on a Teaching Fellowship to complete his Ph.D. this year. Copeland has the following to say about debate: "In a more general sense debate training is valuable to those having the opportunity to take it. In particular, it teaches that a good argument can be made for both sides of almost any question, and that, in fact, most questions have not two but many sides—a whole spectrum of reasonable defendable positions. That positions which are objectionable overall may still contain some particular detail or details which it might be desirable to retain. That even the best solution to a particular problem may leave something to be desired.

"In short, that a pat solution is impossible for most problems and that a workable compromise, though imperfect, may still be the best solution to any given time, and that since 'only change is certain,' what is the 'best' solution at one time may not be the best solution at another time."

Emotions Mixed At Final Curtain

By ROY M. BROWN
Director of Drama

When a show closes and the final curtain goes down I wonder if you experience, as I do, that vague empty feeling in the pit of your stomach.

After the awards are presented at the final session of the State One-Act Play Contest I experience this feeling—a mixture of happiness and sadness knowing another year of one-act play competition is over.

As you know the State One-Act Play Contest will climax the 1964-65 competition. The contest will be held on May 6, 7 and 8, in Hogg Auditorium on the campus of The University of Texas. Unknown at this time are the 22 one-act play companies who will participate in the contest. You unknowns, I look forward to seeing you soon.

One of my most memorable experiences as a high school student was the opportunity to attend a state One-Act Play contest. Not as a participant, but as an audience member. If your administration will permit it and you can work it into your schedule, I encourage you to make every effort to bring students and attend the 39th State One-Act Play Contest.

Correction

The Regional One-Act Play schedule for the Texas A&I, Kingsville, Region IV, Conference AA, districts 25-32, inclusive, listed in the March issue of The Leaguer was incorrect. Please make the following correction:

Thursday, April 22

8:00 a.m.—12:00—One-Act Play Rehearsal

1:00 p.m.—5:45—One-Act Play Presentation

Summer Workshop

A number of schools require faculty members to obtain a certain number of college semester hours every three years. If you plan to attend school this summer you should know that many Texas colleges and universities offer summer drama courses. I encourage you to contact the college or university of your choice and request information concerning summer drama programs.

A number of summer workshops for high school students will also be held. If you have talented students interested in furthering their knowledge of drama, encourage them to write the college or university of their choice for information.

Summer Theatre

If you don't plan to attend school this summer, why not encourage your administration to offer a summer school drama course for elective credit? This is an opportunity for the drama teacher to subsidize his salary, and at the same time promote his drama program. Many students have so much leisure time in the summer they would jump at the chance to take a drama course and be involved in production. Local summer drama programs have been effective in many communities. You won't know whether it will work in yours till you try.

It would take an entire page of The Leaguer to praise and list the names of the many people I would thank for their efforts in making the 1964-65 One-Act Play competition so effective. Since space will not permit, to each of you who played any part in our League drama activities, many, many thanks and much kudos.

If you are in Austin this summer, come by and see me. Have a good summer.

Good Show.

Sixth Speech Workshop To Offer UIL Event Practice, Tournament

The sixth Speech Workshop for High School students will be held at The University of Texas, June 14 through July 10.

The Speech Workshop will offer a selected group of high school students four weeks of intensive study and practice in oral communication, including the speech activities of the University Interscholastic League: Debate, Extemporaneous (Informative) Speaking, Persuasive Speaking, Poetry Interpretation, and Prose Reading.

Debate Session Ppan

It is planned to obtain one of the country's leading experts on the debate topic for next year to lecture and offer suggestions for the coming debate season.

Courses will be conducted by regular speech faculty members, including Dr. B. C. Kissel, Director, State Contest in Persuasive Speaking; Mrs. Marjorie Parker, Co-director, State Contest in Poetry Interpretation, and Dr. J. Rex Wier, State Director of Speech Activities of the League.

Teachers and College students may earn three hours credit while participating in the Workshop by enrolling in Speech 362, Directing Extracurricular Activities. The Workshop will serve as a laboratory for the course. Interested teachers should write the director for further information.

Students will utilize the sound recording facilities of the Speech Laboratory for perfecting their performances. They will also record various speech assignments on video tape, and thus will be able to see and hear themselves on closed circuit television. Recording sessions will be conducted in the studios of Radio/Television of the University.

Tournament Included

A tournament will be conducted during the final week of the workshop and trophies will be awarded to the winners of each of the events. (All League speech contests.)

Any high school student is eligible to apply for enrollment in the Speech Workshop. Address requests for further information to Dr. J. Rex Wier, Director, Speech Workshop, Department of Speech, The University of Texas, Austin, Texas, 78712.

Amateur Rule Cited To Protect Players

School administrators and coaches should, during the next month, have group meetings of all prospective athletes and explain to them carefully the League's Amateur Rule, Article VIII, Section 8, so that no student may forfeit his eligibility or cause a school to be deprived of honors through violation of this rule.

The Amateur Rule is violated when any pupil receives cash or valuable consideration for teaching, officiating or participating in any athletic sport, or game, or who in any game, outside of games played as a member of his school team or the League, has competed on an athletic team with a paid player or for valuable consideration has allowed his name to be used for the promotion of any product, plan, or service.

The following activities are considered athletic sports or games: Baseball, basketball, bowling, boxing, football, golf, rodeo events, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, weight lifting, and wrestling.

May Be Under 15

This rule does not apply to pupils who were under 15 years of age at the time payment for athletic services was made. A pupil adjudged by an appropriate committee to be in violation of this rule is ineligible for one year from the time of violation.

It should be noted that a boy may play against a paid player, but he may not play on the same team with a paid player.

The acceptance of cash or valuable consideration by someone else for the boy is an evasion of the Amateur Rule, and should be interpreted the same as if the boy received these items. Acceptance of golf balls, bags, clubs, etc., and the playing on any golf team with a paid player is in violation of the rule. The signing of a letter of intent for athletic ability is in violation of this rule. The signing of a pre-enrollment application is not in violation of this rule.

Violation of the Amateur Rule results not from participating in a rodeo event, but from accepting cash or valuable consideration. In other words, a pupil may enter a rodeo contest as an individual entry and win the event without violating the Amateur Rule, but if he accepts cash or valuable consideration he is in violation of this rule.

Baseball Conditions

A boy may participate in summer baseball under the following conditions and not violate the League's Amateur Rule:

- (1) He must not play on the same team with any paid player or any player who received valuable consideration. He can play against other teams which may have paid players.
- (2) He cannot receive any expense money of any type for travel, meals or lodging. Any expense money must be handled by the manager of the team in the same way that the high school coach would handle the funds, and the boy must never receive any cash or transportation tickets.
- (3) Any money that may accrue from the gate receipts or from any other source cannot be distributed among the players on a team. If a high school boy played on this team he would then become ineligible as he has played with paid players.
- (4) It should be kept in mind that any collection taken up at a game as a result of a person hitting a home run or doing any other outstanding feat would make the player accepting money as a paid player, and all players on that team would then become ineligible if they were high school students.

HOUSING...

Late Requirements

In case requests for housing are received in this office after May 1, it is too late for the State Office to send you your housing assignment confirmations. The duplicates will be held at the League housing desk and must be picked up by sponsors when you arrive in Austin on Thursday.

If you request assistance from the League, DO NOT MAKE OTHER RESERVATIONS. The League Office will have space for you and you will be liable for the cost of these accommodations whether or not you occupy them.

Sponsor Responsibility

The League Office has the right to refuse lodging for any group of students who do not appear to be adequately chaperoned. Sponsors are expected to stay with their students. ALL unchaperoned students will be required to give the name and address of their parents or guardian, and the name and address of the school they represent by the hotel and motel managements before they are permitted to stay at the accommodation.

Each school will be held totally responsible for any and all damage which may result from such negligence in supervision.

No Free Lodging

No "free" lodging is available this year. This will necessitate some revision in plans for those contestants and sponsors formerly relying on this type of housing. The League Office has reserved enough additional space to accommodate these individuals, and will assist these schools in securing room in the price range preferred if they will indicate their preference on the housing form. If the schools accustomed to this type housing absolutely cannot afford to utilize the lower-priced accommodations, may we suggest you contact any friends and/or relatives you may have in Austin in whose home you might stay. This arrangement will be satisfactory with the League Office.

No Friday, May 7, Reservations

Since it is impossible to hold rooms vacant Thursday night when all facilities are filled, no attempt will be made to assign schools which request accommodations beginning on Friday, May 7, until the group actually arrives at registration headquarters in Gregory Gymnasium. At that time, League officials will assist contestants and sponsors in securing lodging.

The hotels and motor courts are cooperating with the League by holding rooms which will become vacant on Friday to be used by the League housing office. These rooms generally do not become available until Friday afternoon, and guests should not expect to be assigned immediately upon arrival in Austin.

Administrators and sponsors are cautioned not to make double reservations in Austin for the State Meet with the expectation of cancelling one after arriving in Austin. If your group is assigned to lodging on the basis of an official request through the League Office, the school will be held responsible for all charges incurred as a result of this request whether or not the rooms are occupied.

In brief, do not make other reservations, if you have requested assistance from the League housing office for your qualified contestants and sponsors. If you do make your own reservations, please so notify the League Office on the official housing request form.

The League Housing Office sincerely appreciates the cooperation and courtesy the many schools have shown in the past, and we look forward to another successful State Meet.

POSTSCRIPTS ON ATHLETICS
BY DR. RHEA H. WILLIAMS

The University Interscholastic League would like to take this opportunity to thank all officials who work football and basketball games for their fine contribution to the High School Athletic Program in the State of Texas.

This year there were 946 high school football teams participating. This meant that every Friday night from the Gulf of Mexico to the Panhandle, and from El Paso to Texarkana, there were approximately 468 football games played each Friday night. There were approximately 55,000 boys participating on the A teams, and when you add B teams, and junior high school teams, there were approximately 125,000 boys participating in the program directly or indirectly from the League stimulus.

In Basketball, there were 1106 high school basketball teams participating in the League program. As you can see, this is a tremendous program, and it is very important that football and basketball officials realize the important function which they play in the athletic program of the high schools of Texas.

Triangular Basis

The League considers that there is a triangle which makes high school athletics operate so efficiently in Texas. At the base of this triangle is the school which furnishes the team, the coach, the administration, and the players. On one side of the triangle is the League which administers, organizes, and supervises the program, and the other side of the triangle is made up of the officials who work the games.

As you can see, it is very important that complete liaison be carried on between the three sides of the triangle, and that they all work perfectly in harmony if we are to have the type of educational program that should be available for the youth of this state.

Educational Competition

The League has always had the philosophy that athletics are a part of the educational program of the school and that these are experiences that can be obtained in no other place in the school program. As this is a part of the school program, then the activity which officials are called upon to work is a part of the school program. It is important that all officials conduct themselves in such a way that it will be conducive to an educational activity.

The League and its football and basketball codes require each school to extend courtesy and protection to every official who works an athletic activity on their school grounds. This is done because officials are asked to work as consultants, and are requested mutually by both schools to render educational services on the gridiron or the basketball court. The League has throughout the years, done everything in its power to see that public schools, their employees, and the citizens of their respective communities extend proper courtesy and protection to the officials who work high school athletic activities.

Proper Conduct

It, however, is also the responsibility of the official to see that his conduct is such as would be expected in such a situation. This means of course that he must maintain poise, good judgment, proper conduct, proper moral habits, and he must realize that he is working in an educational activity in which the participants are adolescents. His conduct should be of a type which exemplifies the very best in ethical character traits. It goes without saying that there is no place in the high school athletic program for a football or basketball official who drinks, who curses, who is loud or boisterous, who is prejudiced, and does not have a good, sound, judgment.

Knowledge of Rules

It definitely is the responsibility of a football or basketball official to know the rules. It is a disgrace for a high school football or basketball team which has worked all year, which has made sacrifices in order to attain a certain goal, and then to have all this lost because of an interpretation of a rule by an official who obviously does not know the rules.

Anyone who assumes the responsibility of working in an athletic contest as an official should know the rules backwards and forwards, should use good judgment, and should realize that his conduct should always be above reproach. A good official works the game in such a way that no one really knows he is there. The emphasis and concentration should be on the game and the high school players, and not on the game official.

Great Organization

The Southwest Football and Basketball Official's Association has always done an outstanding job in the promotion of good officiating in high schools in Texas. From my observations in this, and the other 49 states of the Union, it is definite that we have one of the better officiating associations in the United States. Practically all of the people who work in these organizations as officials are sincere, honest, conscientious, and well-trained officials.

Everyone should realize that it is impossible to have an athletic activity without officials, and it is the responsibility of everyone concerned, the schools, the coaches, the citizens, and the League, to see that officials are given their proper dues when they work in your community. The obligation, however, is also on the official to see that his conduct is such that he deserves the consideration which is given to him when he is asked to attend a school campus as a consultant in a particular athletic activity.

Philosophy of Athletics

Athletics are like atomic energy in that they may be used for good or bad, depending upon the way in which they are used. If they are used for the advancement of the used for anything other than the coach's profession, or if they are good of the boy and the school, then they are not being used in the proper fashion. Emotions are so close to the surface in athletics that it is most important that everyone connected with the game control his emotions. This is especially true with the coach and the officials. The primary responsibility for proper conduct definitely rests upon these groups, and without their support, undesirable situations can arise.

Thank You

The League is proud of its fine high school athletic program. There is no doubt that the fine officiating throughout the years is responsible for a large part of this successful program. The League solicits continuous support of all game officials of its program, and the League hopes that all officials will continue to work diligently and enthusiastically to better prepare themselves to serve in this most important youth program in Texas.

Rule Requires Protector Use In Grid Games

For the 1965 football season it is mandatory that all players wear tooth and mouth protectors, unless they have a written certificate from their dentist to the effect that they cannot, for physical reasons, wear them.

The mandatory requirement for tooth and mouth protectors is a part of the football equipment requirement. This requirement will be enforced by the game officials.

There can be no protest filed against another team if later evidence indicates that some player on the team did not have a tooth and mouth protector, as this is an official's decision, and no protest can be based on an official's decision.

If the referee discovers that a player is not wearing a mouth and tooth protector as required, or if that fact is reported to him either by another official or by a player, through the captain, the offending player is not to be allowed to enter or continue in the game until there is compliance with the provisions of the rule.

It is not anticipated that there will be difficulty in connection with the enforcement of this rule. Officials are not required to inspect each player before the start of, or during the game.

Track Schedule For State Meet

All school administrators and coaches should note that for the 1965 Track and Field Meet, Conferences A and AAAA track is scheduled for Friday night, May 7, and track events in Conferences B, AA and AAA are scheduled for Saturday, May 8. In the future, these conferences will rotate on a biennial basis on Friday and Saturday.

All schools and coaches should check carefully the track and field schedule to insure their contestants are present 15 minutes prior to the event. Preliminaries in Conference B are scheduled Friday morning and field events for all Conferences are scheduled during Friday, May 7.

Cage Champs Dominate Girls' Honor Selections

State champions Victoria, Edna, Roosevelt (Lubbock) and Trent dominate the 1965 girls' basketball all-tournament teams.

The teams, selected by newspaper and radio men reporting the tournament: Conference AAA—Faye Shumbera of Victoria, Donna Lou Ratcliff of Jasper and Shirley Barnett of Tulia, forwards; Marsha Porter of Victoria, Paula Johnson of Jasper and Debby Callaway of Weslaco, guards.

Conference AA—Teto Jennings of Friona, Jo Ann Sparks of West and Jeanne Brown of Edna, forwards; Glenda McClellan of Friona, Patsy Tyler of Rockdale and Cathy Dial of Edna, guards.

Conference A—Dee Gregory and Alice Woolley of Roosevelt and Carolyn Dornak of Jourdanon, forwards; Sharon Jeter of Baird, Joyce Bowen of Jourdanon and Cindy

Smith of West Sabine, guards.

Conference B—Marilyn Aschenbeck of Round Top-Carmine, Diane Lewis of Trent, Barbara McAninch of Trent and Kathy Horn of Brock (Weatherford), forwards; Lesley Ann Maxey of Gold-Burg (Bowie), Candy Doerr of Round Top-Carmine, Kaye McWilliams and Sue Dickerson of Trent, guards.

An extra forward and guard were named in Conference B, since there are more teams (six) in the tournament in that class than in the others (four).

A number of players were repeat selections. In AA, McClellan was picked last year and Sparks in 1963. In A, Dornak, Jeter and Bowen are all repeats from 1964, and in B, Lewis, McAninch and McWilliams were all-tournament for the second straight year. This was the first year for Conference AAA to determine a state champion.

District Committee Session Urged by League Director

By R. J. KIDD
League Director

Before the close of the school year the Superintendent should insist that the District Executive Committee meet and invite the football and basketball coaches to be present for the last Committee meeting of the school year. The question that many will ask is what will we talk about? Well, here is the agenda for their final meeting.

1. Make clear to the coaches what can be done during the summer season and early fall season in the way of basketball and football training.
2. Read and study League rules on both of these points and be sure that all the coaches understand the District Executive Committee's interpretation of these rules.
3. Advise all members of the district that each school will be helping in the policing of the district and that any violations observed will be reported to the district Executive Committee.
4. Have each member of the district explain to the district executive committee how any special physical fitness program will function in the school gymnasium during the summer. What school equipment will be used.

Give coaches a chance to ask the committee questions concerning physical fitness programs or any programs they may have under consideration for the summer.

5. The Rules of the District Committee should discuss with the coaches at this last meeting before the close of the school year are:

- a. Article VIII Sec. 8, Amateurs Only
 - b. Article XVI Limitation of Awards
 - c. Football Plan, Rules 13, Practice Scrimmage and Rule 30, Practice Periods
 - d. Basketball Plan Rules 28 and 33.
6. The District Executive Committee should advise all administrators of the district and coaches that the "intent" and "spirit" of the rules are to be followed rigidly.
