

 All photos taken by 2018 workshop participants.

ILPC SUMMER WORKSHOP

JUNE 14-16, 2019 / UT AUSTIN

Since 1980, ILPC summer publications workshops have set the standards for excellence. Our workshop prepares students for the upcoming school year. Whether the students are honing their writing skills or developing the yearbook theme, they all focus on the future — the 2019 school year. For three days, our instructors push your students in intensive learning environments, headed by many of the nation's finest journalism instructors. These instructors are dedicated to one goal: helping others create the finest journalism in the nation. Students and advisers alike return to school in August ready to tackle their jobs, whether they're beginning reporters or veteran advisers.

We offer classes in UIL writing contests, new media and video editing, various newspaper and yearbook strands, photojournalism, design, sports media and journalism boot camp, which allows students to have one day of instruction in design, writing and photojournalism. Tuition, room (double room/community bath) and board is $240 per person. Registration opens March 15 and closes June 1.

For more details 512.232.4924 or e-mail jacton@uiltexas.org. Registration opens March 16 at: <http://www.uiltexas.org/journalism>.